Mihov Blank Screen shows black, green, gray, or white screen or a white-green animation. Use the program to set the brightness of my monitor and test the quality of a monitor (moire, blue and yellow regions, storms). With Mihov Blank Screen, users will be able to set their own colors to test. This is done by some basic tests: brightness · Select 'Black' from the menu. If the screen is not completely black and you can't make it black by changing the monitor controls, than this is not a good sign. · If you want to see how much the monitor has been operating and how 'tired' it is select 'White' from the menu. The screen should be completely white. If you see any yellow or light blue regions than it will stop working soon. Moire effect · Select 'Gray' from the menu and observe the screen for any patterns. There should be none. · Select 'Green' to see if there are and 'storms' on the screen. If the screen is still, than it is OK. If it is jumpy, than it is not. · Select the 'Green-White Animation' from the menu if you want to check if the display size stays the same when colors change fast. Observe the size of the display when the color changes. If the display region is bigger / smaller when the color changes it is not a good sign. Description: If the monitor is new and under warranty, please ask for assistance at the store you purchased it from
