A bill intended to help prosecute lynchings was introduced in the Pennsylvania House of Representatives this week. House Bill 1773, sponsored by Rep. Chris Quinn (R-Lycoming County), would amend the Crime Victims Act of 1984 to remove the word "black" from the definition of a victim of lynching. Quinn says he introduced the bill in response to the murders of Trayvon Martin and Michael Brown. According to the National Memorial for Peace and Justice, lynching is "the unlawful killing of a person by a mob or by other means without legal justification or official trial." The American Anti-Lynching Campaign says that by law "a lynching can occur only if a white person is killed by a mob of at least five persons, at least three of whom are white." It further states, "There have been no reported lynchings in Pennsylvania since 1941." The NAACP's Pennsylvania State Conference said in a statement on Wednesday, "The revival of the practice of lynching, and the revival of hate crimes and white supremacists groups, is not new, but the high-profile killing of Trayvon Martin and Michael Brown -- both black youth -- in 2012, and the acquittal of his killer by an all-white, all-male jury, has helped shine a spotlight on what must be an all-too-common practice in our country. And not just in Philadelphia, but throughout the state and nation." According to Quinn's office, the legislation would be retroactive to 1984. He told PennLive.com Wednesday that he's heard from constituents who are asking about the murder of 11-year-old Tamir Rice in Cleveland, Ohio, in November. Rice was

See more ↓↓ Picture Need an ecu for? Hi, I would like to have an ecu for my 1NZ-FE to add more fun. I like having it on my EVO but when I did install the 1nz ecu for the 1ZZ turbo I removed it because I was having real difficulty getting it to work right with the 1ZZ turbo so I bought a new ecu for the 1NZ-FE because I really wanted that installed. So I know there is a lot of people having troubles installing it with the 1ZZ turbo so I wanted to know if anyone has had any luck. I know it is tricky to install but I am willing to try because I just want to see it work.Q: Apply a style on a child element (see example) I am trying to do something like this: Delete But I am unable to apply the style "delete" on the "a" tag, even though it is a direct child of the "p" tag. I know it is a simple fix, but I am unable to see it. A: The.delete class should be applied to a, not p Delete Edit The inline style with a selector (4bc0debe42
